Overview

Frustrated about the length of time spent on administration, Nagel Langdons partnered with Taloso360 to help reduce time spent on recruitment advertising processes.

By implementing Talos ATS, our advanced hiring software, they've since reduced their administration time by over 15 hours per week.

Our partnership with Nagel Langdons has also improved the quality of their hiring campaigns, with creative and tailored job advertisements provided through Talos Attract.

Recruitment challenge

Like most significant companies and operations, Nagel Langdons' recruitment challenges took up a large portion of administrative time. This was only worsened by inefficiencies in their previous hiring software.

Nagel Langdons' biggest impediment was the time it took to advertise jobs, and the endless administration involved in the process. Without streamlined processes, they missed opportunities to attract quality candidates.

Why did Nagel Langdons choose Talos360?

An efficient and easy to use ATS, coupled with the solutions offered with Talos Attract, confirmed to Nagel Langdons that working with Talos360 would help them resolve their recruitment challenges.

The Talos360 solution:

Implementation of Talos ATS

Implementing Talos ATS was a game-changer for Nagel Langdons. Our simple but effective system instantly streamlined their recruitment processes, saving over 15 hours per week on administrative tasks.

Taking advantage of standout features, such as the integrated multi-poster, Nagel Langdons could speed up bulk advertising while reducing recruitment costs. Less time spent on administration allowed for more focused and attractive advertisements, which has seen an upturn in talent attraction.

Partnership working

Talos360 provided Nagel Langdons with a dedicated account manager and campaign strategists to ensure their switch to Talos ATS was as smooth as possible. Additionally, implementing Talos ATS across their business was aided by our efficient and practical tech support.

Our campaign strategists have also helped to improve everyday hiring processes for Nagel Langdons. For example, specially customised adverts have saved precious time by attracting better suited, compatible candidates.

Enhanced recruitment

Streamlining, and simplifying their recruitment processes was paramount to Nagel Langdons before joining Talos. Since partnering with us, they have made tangible time savings in posting vacancies to multiple job boards – a significant streamlining feature of Talos ATS. Furthermore, utilising Talos Attract has seen considerable uplifts in their recruitment processes, significantly improving candidate attraction and communication.
